

Day 3:

Now we have the third day of the Erasmus-Project. Today we were in Nowy Sacz.

At first, we had a meeting with some Country representatives. We were in the Parliament and met the district administrator. They told us many things about the future plans of the city and their sporting plans and achievements. After that everyone got a bag with some presents in it. These were for example a base cap, a t-shirt, pencils and a keychain.

After that we had a city tour, but sadly it was raining all the time. The city was spectacular. The buildings had a similar vibe like the buildings in Leipzig. We heard many things about some legends of the city and it was a grateful experience. Our tour guide was likeable and despite the bad weather full of enthusiasm. He enthusiastically told us about his city and his old school, where he got really sentimental.

Sadly, the weather turned good after we finished our city tour. Then it was time for us to go shopping . It was such a big shopping centre with so many shops that we were not able to choose where to go first, but we went eating and had some pizza and French fries, because everyone was hungry after such a long tour. The shops in Poland are kind of the same like in Germany, but some things were cheaper.

At last, we needed to take the bus back to the hotel. As always, the bus was extremely crowded. We were the smart ones that took the right stop at the hotel. All of the others went off at the wrong stop for the second time already.

At the moment we are eating together and maybe play some games later or go bowling.
